Press release

New Head of Sales at Ortlieb Präzisionssysteme GmbH & Co. KG in Zell unter Aichelberg

Willy Stange steps down, to be replaced by Dirk Laubengeiger

Dipl.-Ing. (FH) / Dipl.-Wirt.-Ing. (FH) Willy Stange has headed up the Sales and Marketing divisions at Ortlieb since 2012. During that time, he pursued the defined sales objectives with great enthusiasm, creating an outstanding network of business partners and colleagues, and was largely to thank for the steady growth of the company.

In light of his coming retirement, Willy Stange can look back proudly on his achievements at Ortlieb, and will hand over the management of Sales to his successor, Dipl.-Wirt.-Ing. (FH) Dirk Laubengeiger, who has spent many years in a specialist company for hydraulic cylinders and related drive systems, with effect from 1st September 2018.

"Dirk Laubengeiger has many years of professional and managerial experience in national and international machine component sales. Thanks to his training and past specialisms, he is bringing with him excellent specialist expertise, which will be of great value in his new areas of responsibility," explained Managing Director Dr.-Ing. Dieter Simpfendörfer, outlining one of the reasons for his choice.

The employees and management of Ortlieb Präzisionssysteme GmbH & Co. KG look forward to working with Dirk Laubengeiger and would like to take this opportunity to thank Willy Stange for his warmth, his skill as both manager and specialist, and the success he has brought about over the years. Willy Stange will remain in the company for several more weeks alongside Dirk Laubengeiger to ensure a smooth change in Sales management.
